Angelic Devotion

In the 1970s many students attending Catholic schools were airily informed by religion teachers that angels do not exist. That they are “symbolic,” or “metaphors” or, so on. Fortunately we are long past that particular superstition. Indeed, the weight of Scripture & Tradition tell us a great deal about these invisible presences in each of our lives.

An entirely different order of creation to our own (the idea that the virtuous dead—especially children—becoming angels is a pagan idea), their presence and work has affected the lives of all of us since before the birth of our first parents. Indeed, the revolt of Lucifer and his angels set the stage for the Fall of Man, and so shaped the entirety of our history, to say nothing of our personal lives.

Every religion has some notion of them—which is to be expected if they do indeed exist. But, just as the Catholic religion has the entirety of Revelation, so too is her teaching on Angels the most complete and correct. In the Catechism of the Catholic Church and the Roman Catechism, their existence and the role of the fallen ones is very explicit. “The existence of the spiritual, non-corporeal beings that Sacred Scripture usually calls ‘angel’ is a truth of faith. The witness of Scripture is as clear as the unanimity of Tradition.” (CCC § 328). Jesus Himself told us this: “The angels in heaven always see the face of my Father who is in heaven” (Mt 18:10). As explained in the Catechism: “The angels are purely spiritual creatures, incorporeal, invisible, immortal and personal beings endowed with intelligence and will. They ceaselessly contemplate God face-to-face and they glorify Him. They serve Him and are His messengers in the accomplishment of His saving mission to all.” (Id. at para. 60.)

The unfallen angels continue to serve God, and us in innumerable ways, after all, the name Angele comes from the Greek word for ‘messenger’. Hebrews affirms that angels are “ministering spirits sent forth to serve, for the sake of those who are to obtain salvation.” (Heb. 1:14.).

Lacking human emotions or passions, unflinching in their duty, and loving us with an intensity second only to God and the Blessed Virgin, they play an important role in the economy of Salvation. This is mentioned in all of the liturgies of the Church, East and West; in the traditional Requiem of the Latin Rite, the angels are called upon to lead the newly dead soul to paradise.

ST. THÉRÈSE OF LISEUX — PERPETUAL NOVENA

September 27 — October 5: St. Thérèse, please pray that we as a community will shine as we go about our daily lives. May people see Jesus in us and may we see Jesus in every person we meet.

October 6 — 14: St. Thérèse of the Child Jesus, please pray for all who suffer from addictions of any kind, especially those who have hurt others because of their addiction. Please pray that they will accept the forgiveness Jesus offers them and have complete renewal in their lives.

When Mass is being celebrated, the sanctuary is filled, with countless angels, who adore the divine victim, immolated on the altar.
